SEMINARY WILL ADMIT WOMEN; NEW DEGREE IS BEING OFFERED

For the first time in the history of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, women students will be admitted next fall for study for a new degree of Master of Arts, it was announced by the president, Dr. Abdel Ross Wentz, at the second-day session of the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the Lutheran church at Harrisburg Tuesday.

In his report on the seminary, Doctor Wentz also disclosed that a new department, that of "Christian Sociology and Psychology," has been established with Dr. Bertha Paulsen as professor, and that a special appeal will be made beginning September 1 in the congregations of the synod to raise $250,000 for the building of a new library building and the remodeling of the present dormitory at the seminary.

The new degree will be offered for students, especially women, who complete a two-year course of study at the seminary, Doctor Wentz announced. The degree will be given with the purpose of training young women as parish workers, directors of Christian education, in social welfare work and as missionaries, Doctor Wentz said. "Several applicants" have applied already for the course which will begin September 4, Doctor Wentz stated.

Field Director For Field Drive Doctor Paulsen took charge of the new department at the seminary last fall. She is a native of Leipzig, Germany, and holds a degree of doctor of philosophy from the university there. After the rise of the Nazi party she fled and worked for several years as a social worker in England. She later came to America and taught at Wagner college, Staten Island, and at Muhlenberg college, Allentown. She first came in 1943 to Gettysburg, where she taught at both the college and seminary, but assumed full-time duties at the seminary last fall. She received her American citizenship last year.

Doctor Wentz announced that in connection with the fund raising campaign, the Rev. Howard J. McCarty, of Conshohocken, a seminary graduate, will act as field secretary, and present the appeal to the Lutheran congregations of Pennsylvania. He will organize local committees, talk to congregations, and carry on the fund-raising in the local communities.

$162,174 In E Bond Sales

Only a few war bond issuing agencies reported sales today boosting the total purchases of E bonds to $162,174. This is an increase of $8,973 over Tuesday's total.

"We have reports of additional sales made throughout the county but as yet these have not been officially recorded in the war finance committee office," one spokesman said this morning. "Many of the issuing agencies do not make daily reports, preferring to tabulate their sales every two or three days and then report them to headquarters," he added. The impetus in sales is expected to be reflected within a few days following the dinner-meeting of the volunteer workers Tuesday evening.

The county quota for E bonds to individuals is $700,000 and workers are stressing the importance of purchasing this type of bond.

TIMES CARRIERS WIN AWARDS IN "WEASEL" DRIVE

Fourteen Gettysburg Times carrier boys and one girl sold enough war bonds and stamps in the 12-week campaign from February 17 to May 12 to buy three "water weasels" for the use of the armed forces in shortening the war in the Pacific.

The 15 carriers sold 144,850 10-cent stamps, or their equivalent in other denominations of stamps and bonds. Each of the swamp-going jeeps costs $4,815 or 48,150 10-cent war stamps.

Stamp sales of six of the 15 carriers entitle them to special sterling silver pins which will be presented at special exercises Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the court house. The presentations will be made by Judge W. C. Sheely, chairman of the Adams county council of defense.

Will Receive Pins

The carriers who will receive the special awards and the number of 10-cent stamps sold by each are:

Donald Menges, Gettysburg, 32,591; James Bucher, Aspers, 27,271; Ray Breighner, Gettysburg, 22,474; Charles Stitt, New Chester, 9,855; Leon Dillman, Gettysburg, 6,971, and Daniel Bushman, Arendtsville, 5,394.

When the Times carriers were designated as War Weasel U.S. Stamp agents in February, the purchase of two "water weasels" was set as the campaign goal but the volume of sales sent the carriers so far beyond that goal that three of the important war machines, each bearing a "decal" identifying it as the weasel bought by the Times carriers, could be made available to the armed forces.

Each of the 15 carriers receives a shoulder emblem, identifying him or her as a Weasel War Stamp agent.

The 12-week campaign sent the total stamp sales figures for Times carriers, since they began the drive to sell war stamps in the early days of the war, to 3,911,683 stamps.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Shoop, Center Square, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Corporal Jeanne, WAC, to Thomas Clifford Harris, Jr., yeoman, second class, U.S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Harris, New Hill, North Carolina.

CLASS ON OUTING

About 30 members attended a hamburger fry held by the Fidelis class of the Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church Tuesday evening at Rosensteel's park along the Taneytown road. Class Pres. Clyde Spangler was in charge of arrangements and Mrs. Marie Carver was in charge of the food committee. The group sang songs and played games during the evening.

BOND WORKERS URGED TO SELL COUNTY QUOTA

Volunteer war bond workers of Adams county were urged to exert every effort possible to sell the county's quota of bonds in the "Mighty Seventh" war loan drive, "especially the quota of E Bonds" by O. S. Poland, Esq., of the war bond division of the Treasury Department.

Addressing more than 125 men and women workers at a dinner-meeting at the Hotel Gettysburg Tuesday evening Mr. Poland stressed the importance of financing the war against the Japs until the "complete and crushing victory that will eventually come to the Allies."

"We are all partners in the job of winning this war. We are partners in the supreme effort to supply ships, planes, ammunition, food, medicine and other essentials of war just the same as the men at the front," said Mr. Poland. "Our job, however, is to provide the money to purchase these essentials. Adams county has never failed in any previous drive and I feel confident that it will put this smashing war bond drive over the top."

TAX NOTICES GO ON NEW FORMS

Using new tax card forms made necessary by changes in state taxing laws, J. Herbert Weikert, local tax collector, will begin Thursday the mailing of 9,000 1945 borough and county tax notices to the approximately 4,500 taxpayers in Gettysburg. Each taxpayer will receive two cards.

The tax cards must be brought or sent to the collector's office when payment is made. Mr. Weikert emphasized. The new cards—one for borough taxes and the other for the county levy—are perforated with one section to be retained by the collector as his record of the tax payment and the other going to the taxpayer as his receipt.

Penalty Provisions

The borough tax notices state that there will be a five per cent abatement on taxes paid up to August 1. They will be payable at par during August and September. One-half per cent penalty will be added in October and every month until the taxes are paid.

The county tax notices carry different instructions on penalties, although the same offer of five per cent abatement to August 1 stands. County taxes will be payable at par through August and September but five per cent will be added October 1.

The borough tax rate is 13 mills and the county, 6 1/2 mills with the respective duplicates amounting to $39,780.42 and $27,820.62.

School tax notices are not expected to be mailed for more than a month.

Woman's Club Helped Buy Patrol Bombers

The Gettysburg Woman's club sold a total of $3,418.75 in war bonds toward the purchase of four Mari-ner patrol bombers in a special campaign by the Pennsylvania Federation of Women's clubs, it was announced today.

Mrs. J. Riley Staats, of California, war bond chairman for the federation, announced the successful completion of the campaign. A total of $2,039,774.35 for the state was achieved between January 15 and April 1 by the Pennsylvania Federation which had set a goal of $1,652,000. The four Navy planes purchased in the campaign will bear decalomanias on their instrument panels to show their sponsorship by the women's clubs.

Mrs. Paul D. Thomas, 110 Howard avenue, was war bond chairman for the Gettysburg club.

AREA UNIT MEETS HERE

The York, Lancaster-Adams Visitation association of the Sons and Daughters of Liberty will meet Thursday evening with the local chapter in the lodge rooms on Baltimore street. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Bombs And Bonds

Washington, May 16 (AP)—Here is a war bond statement from Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, now on his way to a new assignment after commanding the Eighth Air Force in Europe:

"Japan will feel the weight of millions of purchases of war bonds during the Seventh War Loan. There can be no let up in either bombs or war bonds until the Tokyo war lords surrender."

3-STATE OFFICE OF WFA OPENS HERE TUESDAY

An area office of the War Food Administration, Office of Labor, which will have jurisdiction over a three-state territory, opened officially Tuesday in the former Hill coffee shop rooms on Chambersburg street.

Although the area representative, Paul H. Erwin, of New Melford, Conn., has been in Gettysburg for several weeks completing arrangements for his office, the equipment didn't arrive until Tuesday, and other office furniture was due today.

The new office, which will have charge of providing imported agricultural labor help for farmers, is the central office for the territory of the entire state of Pennsylvania, West Virginia and part of Maryland.

To Check Labor Requests

When fully established, the office will employ from eight to 10 persons, Mr. Erwin said. Already, WFA fiscal agent, Miss Ruth V. Kelley, of Gardners, Me., has arrived in Gettysburg for duty, and other professional employees of the WFA will come in later.

The staff will include a supervising nurse who will have charge of the nurses and health programs of all of the camps in this area; several field agents, and several secretaries and clerks.

It is the duty of the WFA Office of Labor to investigate, certify and act upon the requests from local farmers' Emergency Farm Labor committees for additional imported labor for agricultural purposes. The term imported labor as used by the office refers to foreign workers such as the Jamaicans and Bahamians, and other migratory labor from the United States.

To Use Old Forge Camp

Mr. Erwin said that so far, the only camp of Jamaican workers scheduled for this area is the Old Forge camp, near Waynesboro, which was operated last year. There was a move at the beginning of the year, by county farmers to organize camps themselves, so that they could reduce the long transportation haul each day from the Old Forge camp into the county. These applicants were no suitable camp sites available, however, and it was necessary to use again the Franklin county location.

There probably will be at least 325 Jamaicans at the camp from about June 25 on through the summer, Mr. Erwin reported. All of the laborers will work in Adams county from the opening of the camp, but later on in the season, as the early orchard work is through, some of the help will work in Franklin county.

Keefauver Appeals For Help In Tying Bundles Of Clothing

An appeal for local men, especially store workers who are adept at wrapping packages, to help tie and label an estimated 700 packages of used clothing gathered in the recent campaign here was issued today by L. C. Keefauver, chairman of the local clothing collection committee.

He asked volunteers to report at the clothing center in the former People's cash store room this evening where work will begin about 7 o'clock or Thursday afternoon while most local business places are closed.

Several hundred packages already have been tied but they must be labelled as well as the 600 to 700 remaining to be bound.

The clothing, gathered as a community project under the sponsorship of the three local service clubs, will be shipped to a collection center in New York city for shipment abroad for the use of civilians in liberated European countries.

'Uncle Ed' Can't Furnish Bouquets

"Uncle Ed" Barbehenn, veteran North Stratton street gardener, who for 33 years furnished flowers for Gettysburg school children to strew on soldiers' graves in the National cemetery on Memorial day, announced today that he will be unable to provide the bouquets this year.

Already this year he has received a number of inquiries about the flowers, he said, but because of the press of work, and the fact that he lacks assistance in his gardens, he will not be able to furnish the blooms for the children.

He discontinued the practice after Memorial Day, 1942, when he gave away between 200 and 300 bouquets. Each year from 1909 to 1942 he distributed the flowers. In late years, he had purchased a number of flowers from his brother, the late George Barbehenn, who operated a farm and nursery near Orrtanna, but George retired in 1943, and died this past winter.

Bloodiest Counterattack Of Okinawa Campaign Is Repulsed By Leathernecks

By JAMES LINDSLEY

Guam, May 16 (AP)—Marines smashed repeatedly at Japan's heavily fortified southern Okinawa line today, after turning back the bloodiest counterattack of the campaign.

Simultaneously, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced carrier plane raids destroyed or damaged 357 enemy aircraft and pounded 18 enemy airfields on the Japanese home islands of Honshu and Kyushu. Nimitz listed 176 aircraft destroyed, 108 either destroyed or damaged, and 73 machinegunned without observed results.

Japanese artillery shells shrieked overhead as a prelude to the enemy's desperate attempt to drive Marines out of the Naha sector, and a night and day battle raged wildly.

Marines of the veteran 22d Regiment were shoved back 200 yards across a valley to the left of Naha before they rallied and turned the assault.

Cooks, Bakers Fight

As the Japanese attack mounted in fury Marine cooks, bakers and other rear echelon troops were thrown into the battle. Hand grenades flew about like baseballs, and the dead were strewn on both sides of the valley.

It was perhaps the most determined enemy attack of the Okinawa campaign and the emperor's soldiers for a time rode a bloody crest. Then the 22d—veterans of Eniwetok and Orote peninsula—absorbed the shock and literally made a step-by-step advance. At least 400 enemy dead were counted by noon.

By afternoon following the night assault the Marines had regained lost ground, but fighting still was furious around Sugar Loaf hill, a strategic mound guarding approaches to Naha, the capital city.

Full Scale Blow

The counterattack was a full scale attempt by the enemy to turn the tide of the campaign, in the opinion of one officer.

"We've killed so damned many of them we know they are throwing a full scale blow at us," he said.

Ground action was highlighted by the seizure, after five days of hard fighting, of strategic "Chocolate Drop" hill in the central sector by the 77th Infantry Division. The promontory provides the doughboys with a valuable observation point.

The Japanese again made an abortive counterattacking attempt near hard-won Machinato airfield behind Sixth Marine Division lines. Naval gunfire smashed the landing boats.

In the suburbs of Okinawa's capital city, Naha, the Japanese counterattack was hurled back to Takamotoji village with heavy losses.

Hold Conical Hill

A Japanese attempt to drive the 96th Infantry Division off Conical hill similarly was repulsed.

Incomplete returns indicated that 10 U. S. Planes were lost in the two days and one night's carrier operation. Radio Tokyo said more than 900 American planes were involved.

The carrier strikes occurred while Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay's largest fleet of more than 500 Superforts fire-bombed Nagoya, on Honshu, Japan's greatest aircraft production center.

Yanks And Japs Battle With Knives, Bayonets, Helmets, Near Davao

By DEAN SCHEDLER

Manila, May 16 (AP)—Trapped Japanese troops fought a savage hand-to-hand battle today with Americans of the 24th Infantry west of Davao City on Mindanao.

Maj. Gen. Roscoe B. Woodruff's battle-seasoned veterans attacked with knives, bayonets and even flailing fists as the struggle mounted in savage fury. The battle raged in 12-foot cotton grass in foothills between the Talomo and Davao rivers. To the northwest, the 31st and 40th Infantry Divisions were pinning a large enemy garrison in Bukidnon Province, where the bulk of an estimated 50,000 Mindanao Japanese were believed fortifying hill positions.

Douglas MacArthur announced in today's communique that 90 per cent of Mindanao, second largest island in the Philippines, had been liberated. He also said 95 per cent of the population, probably exceeding 400,000, was freed from Japanese domination.

Suicide Attacks

But the Japanese salient west of Davao resisted fiercely. Their retreat cut off, the Nipponese resorted to suicide attacks.

Yanks and Japanese fought with bayonets and knives, slugged like wrestlers. Some combatants rolled into a river, where at least two Yanks held the heads of adversaries under water until they were drowned.

To the northwest 40th Division infantry attacked an enemy force in the Mangina river area east of captured Del Monte air center. The division is driving south along the nine-foot wide gravelled Sayre highway toward the 31st Division about 60 miles away. The 31st won an airfield one mile north of Maramag.

On Luzon, the 43rd Division pressed to within 499 yards of Ipo dam.

S. U. V. MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Past Commanders' and Past Presidents' Association of the Sons of Union Veterans will be held in the GAR postroom here Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, it was announced today.

east of Manila, source of one-third of the capital city's water.

Destroy Cave Defenses

In north Luzon, the 32nd Division destroyed 20 more enemy cave defenses in its drive toward Imugan town beyond newly-won Balete Pass.

The First Cavalry Division drove across the south Luzon coast to Dinanangan on the East shore, a section previously untouched by Yank troops.

Australian and Dutch troops on Tarakan Island off the Borneo coast were pushing Japanese into the hills.

On northeast New Guinea, Sixth Division Australians cleared the northern portion of the Sauri villages.

Planes harassed transportation lines, airfields, shipyards and other war installations from Formosa to the tip of French Indo-China and in the Dutch East Indies.

Uncle Sam Means Business

Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force, May 16 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, Gen. Eisenhower's deputy for the military occupation of Germany, declared today that "the Allied government in Germany is going to be military and the Germans know its going to be military."

"The United States is going to stay in Germany in all probability for a long time," Gen. Clay said.

He explained carefully that Supreme Headquarters Allied Expeditionary Force still is operative and that he was speaking for the U. S. group council which will take over after SHAEF finishes.

Clay said these would be the initial aims of the American occupation:

1. Smash all that is left of Germany's potential to make war.
2. Smash all vestiges of Nazism.
3. See that all arch criminals are caught and punished.

FREE PRESS IS HELD ESSENTIAL FOR GERMANY

DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign News Analyst)

This column ventured the view yesterday that it's unsafe for the Allies not to treat the members of the German high command as war criminals and in some way remove them from circulation, because if these professional war-mongers are allowed their freedom they'll be up to their devilry again.

The situation is doubly dangerous, we added, because the German people are not repentant. They're bitter in defeat and would provide fertile soil for another crop of Prussian aggression. This brought me a telegram from a newspaper publisher suggesting further discussion of the point.

Well, it strikes me that the first thing the Allies have to do is rid themselves of any notion that they entered the Reich in the role of gallant knight rescuing beautiful maidens from the dragon. Hitler didn't ravish Germania. She accompanied him willingly—or let's say she didn't resist.

Racial Characteristics

Just before the war I toured the Reich and it was my observation that while there were Germans who hated Hitler, and others who strongly disapproved of some of his acts, yet much of the country piously washed its hands of his sins, on the ground that he was doing a profitable job for the Fatherland.

If the German people had wanted to get rid of the Fuehrer they could have done so. And here enters a racial characteristic which we mustn't overlook. The Germans are highly susceptible to regimentation, and through the centuries have bowed the neck to constituted authority, good or bad. Thus even those who abhorred the dictators works, never dreamed of rebellion.

That characteristic likely will prove useful to the Allied forces of occupation in maintaining order. But we must remember that the Germans are indeed bitter against their conquerors—even as you and I would be if our country was invaded. So while they may obey our soldiers it will be a long time before they can be re-educated to take their place among peaceful nations.

Acquaint Them With World

The period of reclamation will be perilous. The German folk will obey with their hands but not with their hearts. Our good words will go in one ear and out the other. It's during this transition—which probably will last for years—that we must remove subversive influences.

The two most menacing influences today are the Nazi leaders, big and little, and those Prussian militarists who for generations have kept Europe in turmoil. If they are allowed their freedom to play on the emotions of a defeated and unhappy people, grave things can happen. These leaders must in some way be "liquidated."

As we survey this uncomfortable situation, President Truman gives us the best possible encouragement we could have in his statement that he and General Eisenhower agree that a free press should prevail in Germany in a manner consistent with military security. The President says this is a reversal of the position taken last week by Elmer Davis, chief of the Office of War Information, who contended information reaching the Germans should be strictly controlled.

The sure way to lead the German people into the light is to give them real acquaintance with the outside world. One of Hitler's chief means of regimentation was to deprive the public of honest news of other countries. He fed them what he thought was good for them, so that they came to regard the United Nations as ogres. A free press will change that.

SCHMELING IN PRISON CAMP SAYS OFFICER

Paris, May 16 (AP)—Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight boxing champion who was reported several times to have been killed in the war, sneered at the mention of Joe Louis when he was seen in a prison camp, Stars and Stripes reported today.

The army newspaper said Maj. Clement Wheeler, USAF officer from San Antonio, Texas, talked with "Der Maxie" for more than two hours recently when he visited a prison camp behind American lines to which Schmeling fled.

"Max was wearing civilian clothes and he looked prosperous," Wheeler said.

Wheeler said when he mentioned Joe Louis, the last world champion heavyweight and now a U. S. Army sergeant, Schmeling sneered and left the impression that he considered the American Negro "just lucky" in knocking him out in their second match.

Wheeler said Schmeling told him he was "through for good" and that his career as a fighter ended when he jumped on Crete with German paratroopers in 1942.

Broke His Back

"I broke my back when I landed and almost died," Wheeler quoted Schmeling as saying.

"When you get home, if you ever do," Schmeling told Wheeler arrogantly, "be sure and tell the soft-living Yankees Max Schmeling is still alive. He doesn't die that easily. Perhaps he'll even make a trip to America so the people can see for themselves that he is all right."

Wheeler said he suggested that Schmeling's next voyage to the United States might be in irons and this evoked a disdainful snort.

"He's a Nazi through and through, no better than Hitler," Goering and the rest," Wheeler told Stars and Stripes. "Maybe he's even worse."

FRAU BELIEVES HIMMLER DEAD

Bolzano, Italy, May 16 (AP)—Frau Margaret Boden Himmler believes her husband, Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler, "was killed with the other Reich leaders such as Hitler in the fighting for Berlin."

Frau Himmler, her 15-year-old daughter, Gudrun, and her sister were found Sunday in a well-appointed mountain chalet about 15 miles north of Bolzano in the Italian Tyrol by members of the U. S. 8th Division.

Pale and sickly looking, Frau Himmler told The Associated Press yesterday her husband would be "better off dead—they're all better dead." She and her daughter referred to Himmler in the third person, as the "Reichsfuehrer," or simply as "Himmler."

The first question she asked when the Americans entered the chalet was: "Are we going to be killed?" When told she would be treated fairly she burst into tears, and sobbed that she was "thankful to be captured by Americans."

Capt. Erich Schnitzler, one of Himmler's three personal aides, who had accompanied Frau Himmler's party from Munich April 24, led the Americans up the narrow Alpine trail to the chalet, after having been picked up in the Bolzano headquarters of SS Gen. Karl Wolff.

BUMS, GIANTS CARDS, PIRATES WIN DECISIONS

(By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer))
Father Knickerbocker was running one-two in the National league today with the Brooklyn Dodgers' 10-game win streak overshadowing the Polo grounds antics of Mel Ott's leading Giants who had capped 10 of their last 11 decisions.

Lippy Leo Durocher continued to get by with his pitcher-a-day routine. Vic Lombardi beating the Pirates, 6-3, but Ott had to fall back on his Van Lingle Mungo-Ace Adams daily double to get past Chicago, 5-4. Lombardi was the sixth successive Flatbush hurler to go the route.

Little Lefty Lombardi subdued the Blues with five hits to tie the high for a Brooklyn team under Durocher. His 1943 aggregation also came home first 10 times in a row. The Flatbush standard for all time was 15 in 1924 for Uncle Wilbert Robinson.

Dixie Walker continued his hitting surge with three more singles to highlight the 12-blow attack on loser Art Cuccurullo and two successors. Luis Olmo ran his hitting streak to 13 contests on a seventh-inning single. The night turnout of 25,828 was Ebbsfield's largest of the season.

Reyes Hits Hard
Napoleon Reyes, the Cubanola third sacker, singled twice and walked twice to make his record read six hits in the last six official at bats while the Giants trumped Chicago's ace, Paul Derringer.

Since the Ottmen started to pick on the invading westerners, Reyes' bat had collected 16 hits in 26 at bats for a torrid .615 pace, boosting his season mark 68 points from .292 to .360.

The Mungo-Adams duo was beginning to rival the old Lefty Gomez-Johnny Murphy combine that used to bring home the bacon so often for the Yankees. The new Mungo had started six games and each time Adams had been summoned from the bull pen to finish the job. Five of the six times Van Lingle had been slugged off the hill and the other time he was lifted for a pinch hitter.

Over generally in passes sent him showerward yesterday in the eighth and Adams trudged in to save the day. At that Mungo outlasted Derringer who collapsed during a four-run fifth inning spurt. Phil Weintraub's sixth homer that tied him with Ott for the league lead, actually provided the victory margin although it was just another run when it came in the sixth.

Adams Homers
Billy Southworth called on his St. Louis Cardinal rookie pitchers in Boston and finally got away with it, 8-7, on the strength of Buster Adams' three-run homer in the eighth. Starter Stan Partenheimer was driven to cover early and the Braves clunked four throwers for 13 hits in a losing game. Jack Creel took the nod over Hal Schacher but outfielder Tommy Holmes of the loser with a perfect 5 for 5 stole the show by boosting his average to a league-leading, .435.

Things continued to go from bad to worse for the Phillies who dropped their 18th in 23 starts, bowing to Cincinnati, 7-3, under the Shibe park arcs. Frank Dasso allowed 10 hits but came up with his second triumph with the help of seven unearned runs. Charley Schanz suffered his fifth straight setback.

The entire slate of American league games was postponed because of rain and cold weather.

All-Stars In 8th Straight Victory

The Gettysburg All-Stars won their eighth straight softball victory Tuesday evening by defeating the North Enders 17-9 in a game played on the Gettysburg college field. Dick Hess and Chuck Ritter led the visitors' attack. Hess getting a home-run and three singles and Ritter a homerun, triple and single. The All-Stars are desirous of scheduling games with other softball teams.

Naktenis, Hartford Hurls No-Hitter

(By The Associated Press)
Luck is with Pete Naktenis. The big left-handed, eastern league pitching king last year, hurled a no-hit game as Hartford downed Binghamton 6 to 0 last night but he was lucky to get a shutout. Nine men reached first base—seven on passes—and his teammates committed three errors.

While Naktenis was taming Binghamton with the first no-hit game of his professional career, Williamsport walloped Scranton 10 to 4 to jump into second place in the league standings. Wilkes-Barre defeated Elmira 6 to 0 behind the four-hit pitching of Claude Weldon. The Utica-Albany game was rained out and will be played as part of a doubleheader tonight.

Williamsport's victory was another measure of revenge against Scranton which took the Grays 7 to 6 times in a row last week. Fernando Rodriguez, smoke-ball right hander, surrendered only seven hits and was backed up by 14 blows.

Today's schedule: Utica at Albany, 2, first at 8 p. m.; Wilkes-Barre at Elmira, 8 p. m.; Scranton at Williamsport, 8 p. m., and Binghamton at Hartford, 8 p. m.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 16 (AP)—Paul Robeson the singer, is booking his fall tour according to the Cornell football schedule so he won't miss a game in which Paul, Jr., plays. Hope he's smart enough to avoid Saturday night dates. Even the Robeson voice might suffer from too much "Cornell, I yell." Manager Jimmy Johnston, who is feuding with Eddie Mack, the Boston promoter, claims Lou Nova now is "the most fortified guy I know about."

Seems Nova had to post a $1,000 guarantee that he'd appear for a Boston fight May 26 and in addition the New York commission is holding up an $1,800 purse for the same reason. "And what's more," means Jimmy, "the fight will only draw about $500."

A. WITH O. L.

When Wally Westlake, former Oakland infielder, asked catcher Joe Sprinz of the San Francisco Seals to give a few pointers to Wally's kid brother, Joe dutifully took an afternoon off to visit the team at Christian Brothers' school in Sacramento.

After a long session with the kids, Sprinz realized something was wrong and asked Brother Henry, the coach, where was Jimmy Westlake.

"Oh, I forgot to tell you," the coach explained, "Brother Christopher kept him two hours after school for failing to do his home work. He won't be with us today."

SOLDIER'S FUTURE

Soon home you will be coming,
Brave boy at war today,
To march to gayer drumming
And cheer along the way.
And she will watch to meet you,
Whom now you long to see,
And with her kisses greet you
To crown your victory.

Oh doubt not for a minute,
Though long the war has run,
When freedom's forces win it
And all the fighting's done,
You'll come to milder weather
And winds not quite so cold.
You'll have your years together,
With all that they may hold.

The honeymoon you've waited,
By war so long delayed,
You'll share with hearts elated
As soon as peace is made.
You'll find no hope has perished
Of all that you have prized,
For every dream you've cherished
May yet be realized.

And when this thing is ended
And silenced every blast;
When all the hurts are mended,
May this war be the last.
May all the years hereafter
Be filled from day to day
With love and song and laughter
And children at their play.

Today's Talk

SUNSHINE CHEER

We little realize how greatly we are influenced by those with whom we come in daily contact. We may loathe those who appear to us as chronic grouches and complainers—never satisfied with anyone or anything. But they influence us, just the same. They help to lower our morale.

On the contrary, those whom you run into from day to day, who always have a cheerful smile upon their faces, or who habitually glow from habit, affect you in just the opposite way—they lift you up. They are dealers in Sunshine Cheer.

I recall a Doctor who used to come to our home when my mother was ill. He had hardly entered before he broke out in his familiar laugh over something, and my mother always said that his cheer amounted to far more than his pills. Which was undoubtedly true.

Upon my first visit to San Francisco I came out of my hotel and the first man I met smilingly greeted me with a Good Morning. It came so unexpectedly that I wondered if it were someone I knew or had met. But, no, he was just a stranger—with Sunshine Cheer. I later learned that this was characteristic of Western folks. Advertising their Sunshine, you see! Well, anyway, ever since that simple incident I have loved California and the West. That's the way they do out there.

You can usually get a good idea of the health and prosperity of a town or city by taking a good walk down its main streets and studying the faces that you meet. A town or city reflects more in the faces of its citizens than it does in any other way.

There are those who think that they can make themselves look important and imbued with unusual power by keeping a look on their faces of supreme wisdom. But a face is naturally honest. It tells its story, no matter how you try to make it over. That's why it is so important to keep it wreathed in Sunshine Cheer. You'll be a self-appointed Ambassador of Good Will, no matter where you go.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Ball and a Bat"

U. S. COLLECTIVE DEFENSE PLANS LIKELY TO PASS

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
(Associated Press Diplomatic News Editor)

San Francisco, May 16 (AP)—A United States plan guaranteeing to any group of United Nations the right to organize for collective defense goes before the World Security Conference today backed by enough votes to assure its eventual approval.

The plan is designed primarily to give the Pan-American defense system a strong and permanent position within the proposed world security organization.

Secretary of State Stettinius announced, on authority of President Truman, that the United States would invite the other American nations to negotiate a long-term mutual defense treaty following the Conference here.

Trusteeship Problem
Formulation of the American plan, with the approval of virtually all the Latin American states and most of the big powers—Russia remains to be heard from—puts this Conference over one of its biggest hurdles.

The greatest obstacle remaining, in the opinion of United States authorities, is the development of a formula for setting up international trusteeships that will allow the United States and other powers to develop military bases they believe necessary to security.

This country is especially concerned about retaining Pacific bases captured from Japan. The British delegation last night received London approval of a tentative Anglo-American trusteeship formula. But on this, too, Russia remains to be heard from.

Allay Some Fears
The Pan-American Conference to draw up a long-term treaty to replace the wartime pact made at Mexico City in March probably will be held at Washington in November.

The heart of the United States proposal is that any group of nations has the right to plan collectively for its own defense so that if the projected World Security Council fails to prevent an armed attack on one of them all the others can go to its assistance.

Latin American leaders originally had wanted the hemisphere system exempted from control of the World Council entirely. But yesterday they agreed to accept this formula, which

Now that the collective defense theory has been advanced with assurances of acceptance, fears of small nations about big power veto control of peace-keeping machinery appears to be vanishing.

State Prison System Ready For Changes

Harrisburg, May 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania prison system was ready for a general overhauling today with Governor Martin planning to start work when labor and materials become available.

The $15,000,000 program was signed into law by the Executive who said the measure would "set up the greatest reform and modernization of our penal and welfare institutions ever undertaken in Pennsylvania."

Under the terms of the bill unanimously approved by both the House and Senate the way was paved for abandonment of Eastern penitentiary at Philadelphia; eventual discontinuance of Western penitentiary at Pittsburgh; construction of a maximum security prison at Graterford; establishment of two new institutions at Rockview, one for an industrial school and the other for defective delinquents; construction of a state training school for girls; and establishment of a classification center at White Hall to channel all offenders into minimum, medium, and maximum prisons.

Altoona Trolleys Buses Remain Idle
Altoona, Pa., May 16 (AP)—For a third day, buses and trolley cars remained stationary here, while in Philadelphia, management and union negotiators sought a formula to end the work stoppage of 218 employees of the Altoona & Longan Valley electric railway lines.

The wheels stopped turning Monday after a wage conference broke down the workers, members of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees (AFL), asked a 7-hour day 40-hour week, with time and a half for overtime; the company held out for its accustomed straight-pay plan.

Get Rid Of Roosters Now

The foolish practice of keeping roosters with laying hens after the hatching season ends is costing American poultry owners no less than $125,000,000 a year. Advice on this important subject may be boiled down to this terse rule—If home produced eggs are used for hatching, remove male birds from the flock as soon as birds are no longer needed for hatching; if chicks are not hatched from the flock, keep no roosters at all.

When roosters are allowed to remain with laying hens, fertile eggs result. And technically speaking, fertile eggs are unfit for human consumption. This is explained by the fact that they spoil after a few hours of exposure to normal summer temperature. It is carelessness—the selling of fertile eggs for food—that leads to millions of dozens of eggs spoiling each year before they reach the consumer.

On the other hand, an infertile egg, one laid by a hen that has had no access to a male bird, will retain its full food value even after quite a long exposure to high temperatures. Of course, complete freshness of infertile eggs, and with it the egg's maximum flavor and palatability, demands careful storage from the time it is laid until it reaches the consumer. This is a sound way to build up a profitable poultry industry.

Leaves From Diary Of War Correspondent

By HAL BOYLE

Paris, May 6 (AP) (Delayed)—The Russian Army on the march looks like a great plague of locusts moving over the land in incredible numbers. It is an almost unbelievable sight.

It seems irresistible. No American correspondents have been shown the full power of the Red Army—particularly its armored might—but a number have driven 25 or more miles into the Soviet Army lines to cover meetings between Russian and American Army commanders.

A Little Dazed
They all came back a little dazed. Their first reaction was: "How could a people's army such as this ever whip the professional German Army?"

American soldiers who have been behind the lines on official missions are inclined to return in the same state of puzzlement. They can't figure out how these ragged, dirt-stained peasant legions ever halted the massed power of Adolf Hitler's panzers, let alone throw them back 1,400 miles and wipe them out in their own green Prussian fields.

It is only when you begin to observe the amazing vitality of these people that you get a possible key to their startling victories. It is hard to imagine a race more naturally adapted by birth and temperament to guerrilla warfare than these moustached, close-cropped Ukrainians who have just had a share in the capture of Berlin.

Like a Bleacher Crowd
We passed through one advancing infantry outfit on the way to Marshal Ivan S. Konev's headquarters to attend a meeting with Gen. Omar N. Bradley. It was like trying to climb through a bleachers crowd on the way out of a ball park.

Smudge-faced, pert Russian women police nimble threaded the official party through the disorderly procession, using red and yellow "stop" and "go" signs with the proficiency of an Eagle Scout sending a semaphore message.

Without their efficient help it would have been impossible to buck the tide of Russian vehicles moving toward the Elbe river.

These stocky little yellow-haired military police girls have a vocabulary of abuse that would leave a Manhattan traffic cop speechless with admiration. When they slap the red cloth flag with an imperious wave even the fiercest cavalryman backs up his horse tamely.

Many Women There
There are many women in the Red Army, but only a comparative few actually carry a rifle into combat. Most of them act as nurses, military police or work in army kitchens preparing and serving food.

"They are like your women," said

"GOOD OLD IKE" VISITS LONDON

By EDWARD J. DENNEHY

London, May 16 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower visited London last night for his "first night out" in three years, and in his own words, it was "the nicest night I've had since the war started."

In high good humor, the Supreme commander exchanged banter with cheering west end throngs. People tugged at him, patted him on the back, shook his hand and shouted repeatedly: "Good Old Ike."

Those who got near enough to shake hands with him received a hearty "good luck" greetings from the buoyant chief of the victorious a Russian captain, "in that they prefer jobs with the army in which they can wear civilian dresses. They don't like uniforms too well."

But in any column of infantry moving forward you can see a number of girls with tommyguns over their shoulders, riding chummily into battle with the menfolk on straw-filled horse-drawn carts.

Transport still appears to be the biggest problem of the ordinary Russian doughboy outfit and they solve it as they do the food problem by taking what they need from the countryside.

The Russians have been able to continue their long march by taking vehicles as well as food stores from the army and nation they were conquering.

You see many American two-and-one-half-ton trucks and jeeps in the Russian columns, but a majority of their vehicles are shabby captured German carts and decrepit cars. They move on anything with wheels—from bicycles to baby carriages—anything that will hold them or their supplies.

A Stampede on Wheels
And they move in endless columns like a lane of ants on the way to a banquet. They are laughing, quarreling, singing, munching bread, shouting from vehicles to vehicle, and waving their tommyguns—never still long.

They come on—wave after wave after wave—with stamina and vitality inexhaustible. You appreciate for the first time why German gunners, their positions flooded over by these waves of ineradicable Russians, gave up their task as hopeless and retreated to the American lines.

Watching with awe this motley army file past with Red banners flying from every battered vehicle, one American soldier said: "They look like a cattle stampede on wheels."

WORLD COURT MAY BE PART OF PEACE PLAN

By JAMES MARLOW

San Francisco, May 16 (AP)—We may be after fumbling with the idea for generations—on the brink of setting up a real world court.

But it is not certain how good and strong that court will be when it finally comes out of the oven at the United Nations conference here.

This is the whole purpose of such a court:

It would be one more means of settling international disputes—like arguments over treaties or boundaries or fishing rights—peacefully.

What Has Been Done

Here's a simplified explanation of what has been done to create a true world court and of what remains to be done.

Americans were talking about the need for a world court more than 100 years ago. The first definite step in that direction came in 1899 when the Czar of Russia called the first Hague conference in Holland.

Out of this came the so-called permanent court of arbitration. It was not really a court. It was a panel of people who could be called upon to settle an argument.

The various participating nations designated a few of their outstanding men who could serve as arbitrators if their services were asked by a couple of nations mixed up in a dispute.

A second Hague conference was called in 1907 at the suggestion of President Theodore Roosevelt. He wanted to make the arbitration court a real court, but no progress was made.

Invasion Stopped Operations

A world court finally was created in 1921 when the old League of Nations was established. It had headquarters in the Hague in Holland. The first session was held in 1922.

The judges—15 of them—were elected by the league of nations to serve 9-year terms each.

Although several Americans have sat as judges of the court, the senate would never ratify participation by the United States.

Because of the invasion of Holland, the court has not been able to hold any sessions in the Hague since 1940.

Now in San Francisco the delegates are working out plans for a new world court. It will follow very closely the lines of the old.

PENALTIES FOR FRATERNIZATION

Washington, May 16 (AP)—The full meaning of the "stern" military government the United States is imposing on Germany in the American occupation zone is found in penalties provided for infractors.

In more than a dozen instances, the death sentence may be imposed. Long imprisonment and heavy fines are provided in others.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower drew up the list of ordinances and penalties as his armies moved into Germany. It is assumed these are the codes under which American occupation is operating. They do not necessarily represent the precise policies of the other Allies in their respective zones.

3 Military Courts

Three types of military government courts are set up. A general military court may impose any sentence, including death. An intermediate military court may impose imprisonment up to 10 years or fines up to $10,000. A summary court can sentence up to one year or fine up to $1,000.

The offenses for which death "or such other penalty" may be imposed include:

Espionage; communication of information which may be dangerous to the security or property of the Allied forces; acting "in defiance or contravention of terms imposed upon Germany"; acts or conduct in support or aid of the Nazi party and its various agencies; killing or assaulting any member of the Allied forces; unlawful possession of firearms and ammunition; aiding in the escape of any person detained by Allied authorities.

Plan Co-Education For Muhlenberg

Reading, Pa., May 16 (AP)—The Evangelical Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania has voted to assume financial responsibility for establishing coeducation at Muhlenberg college, Allentown, at an initial cost of approximately $400,000.

The plan calls for expenditure of about $24,000 to change and improve buildings now on the campus and approximately $350,000 to construct a dormitory for 100 resident women students and a staff. It was estimated that approximately $37,000 would have to be added to the college operating budget for additions to the faculty and curriculum changes.

WILL ORDAIN YOUNG PASTORS

Harrisburg, May 16 (AP)—Ordination of new ministers was slated by the Central Pennsylvania Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America as the closing order of business for the final day of its eighth annual convention.

Rev. Gerald G. Neely, of Christ Lutheran church, York, was scheduled to preach the ordination sermon tonight following the receipt of committee reports and other routine matters.

The 700 clerical and lay delegates were urged last night by Rev. Dr. Ross Stover of Messiah Lutheran church, Philadelphia, to take a greater interest in the Girl and Boy Scout movements within the church.

Stressing the importance of youth to the church Dr. Stover called upon the delegates to renew their efforts to bring religion to the youngsters.

Rev. Dr. C. P. Swank was re-elected to the synodical mission board. He reported that two missions, one in York and the other in Collingdale had become self-supporting.

A report by Rev. Carl S. Kling, of Chambersburg, showed that the board of foreign missions of the synod had spent $287,000 on mission work during the past year and had a fund of $108,000 available for post-war work.

THEIR JUBILEE

Greenville, Pa., May 16 (AP)—Two anniversaries will be celebrated here May 10-24—the centennial of the Pittsburgh synod of the United Lutheran church and the diamond jubilee of Thiel college. About 500 ministers and lay delegates from 305 churches in western Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Eastern Ohio were expected to attend the synod, of which Dr. H. Reed Shepler, Pittsburgh, is president.

GIGANTIC TASK OF MOVING WAR GEAR TO BEGIN

Paris, May 16 (AP)—The gigantic task of preparing millions of tons of war material for quick shipment from Europe to the Pacific theater fell today to the U. S. Army.

Brig. Gen. Morris W. Gilland, deputy chief of staff for supply in the European theater, whose organization must supervise the job, said that V-E day found the American armies with more than 5,500,000 tons of supplies on the continent.

It is a problem of rehabilitating, packing and shipping much of this material, which includes 700,000 tons of ammunition and more than a million separate items ranging from locomotives to watch repair tools.

The troops going directly to the Pacific will take all their equipment with them. Those going to the United States will carry only essential equipment, leaving the rest behind to be serviced and sent directly to the active war theater.

Gilland said the transfer of all war material no longer needed in Europe will be done as quickly as possible, with the major portion going by direct route. But these figures disclosed by Gilland indicate the immensity of the job:

The quartermaster corps must repair 94,000,000 pieces of clothing, the ordnance department must re-vamp 160,000 motor vehicles, the signal corps must work over 255,000 radios, the engineer corps 21,000 pieces of construction equipment, the chemical warfare division 2,000,000 gas masks and the medical corps 23,000 pieces of electro-medical equipment.

Gilland disclosed for the first time that the American armies in Europe have roughly 3,000,000 small arms, 11,000 medium and light artillery pieces, 350,000 automatic weapons and mortars, 62,000 combat vehicles and 371,000 general purpose and special purpose vehicles among their equipment.

The bulk of all this will need some repairs, in addition to packaging and weatherproofing.

530,000 MEN LIKE THESE TO CARE FOR...SO FAR

THAT'S WHY YOUR 7TH WAR LOAN QUOTA IS THE BIGGEST YET!

Look at these men.

There are hundreds of thousands more like them. And before this war's done, there's no telling how many will start the long voyage home—on their backs.

Think about that trip.

As our battle lines move farther and farther away, the road back becomes longer and more painful. And more costly!

Taking care of that "costly" part is our job. It's up to us to see that those who have really made a sacrifice are given every bit of help—no matter what we must "sacrifice" to do it. And this 7th War Loan will mean sacrifice.

The quota set for us is big—as big as the need for it. Last year by this time we had had two War Loans. This time we must lend as much in one loan as in those two.

But if our fighting men are to have the care, the rest, the chance to live again, we must lend to the limit.

So when you look at the chart on the right—don't flinch at the amount your country asks you for.

The brave men in the picture didn't flinch—and they've certainly met their quota like Americans. So can we!

Interesting News Of Upper Adams Countians And Their Enterprises

NEW RECORD ON INSPECTION OF APPLES IS SET

The announcement in Harrisburg today that inspections of apples purchased by Pennsylvania processors during the past season broke all previous records and placed the state first in the nation for the volume of apples inspected brought from Don M. James, supervising inspector of the bureau of markets at Harrisburg, a statement that a record also was set in Adams county that kept it at the top of the list in the state and nation.

While preliminary reports for the state indicate that approximately 135 million pounds of apples were classified by state inspectors during the 1944-1945 season, Mr. James said today the final figure probably will be higher.

He said the great majority of that fruit—probably as much as 75 to 80 per cent of it—was inspected in Adams county. Most of the remainder was checked in Franklin and Erie counties, he said.

This year's record for the state compares with 59 million pounds inspected in 1943. The previous record was in 1942 when 132 million pounds were inspected.

According to James the major portion of all apples sold to Pennsylvania processors is now sold on the basis of official grades and inspection. This system allows the canners to pay premium prices to growers of better quality fruit, from which the highest quality canned fruit is produced.

"The Pennsylvania apple canning industry has assumed a major position in the nation both for the quantity and quality of its canned apple products," James declared. "Pennsylvania also leads all states in the volume of its apple inspection work."

MOW EARLY TO GET QUALITY HAY

Hay is the No. 1 feed problem in Pennsylvania, according to Dr. Fred V. Grau, extension agronomist at the Pennsylvania State college, who estimates that two and one-half million acres of hay will be cut in the next few weeks.

He contends that much of the hay crop is cut too late for securing the best quality, explaining that quality depends largely on the time of cutting.

The agronomist explains that the "younger a grass plant, the higher its nutritive value" and that "the older it gets, the more it falls off in quality." He says tests have proved that grasses cut in the pre-bloom stage have not only had the highest degree of feed value, but also the greatest yield of protein per acre.

He recommends cutting grasses at the pre-bloom stage. Cutting time for leguminous hays varies with the kinds of plants. For example, red clover, he says, should be cut between a third to half bloom stage, and alfalfa at about one-tenth bloom stage. For Ladino clover, the agronomist points out that its popularity is partly due to the fact it is always good and varies little in quality, regardless of when cut.

Dr. Grau also urged greater use of grass silage, stating this method of preserving grasses for livestock feed has less loss in feeding value than does hay.

Milk Control Body Lacks Official Head

Harrisburg, May 16 (AP)—Expiration of the term of Chairman John M. McKee left the State Milk Control commission without an official head today.

Reached at home in nearby Camp Hill, McKee said he left the $6,500 office when his term ran out May 1, and "until such time as the governor acts, I don't know what my status will be." Sources close to Governor Martin indicated a possibility of his retention. McKee reaches the retirement age of 60 in September.

The senate failed to act on the commission chairman's nomination at various sessions since he joined the board in 1939, holding his name in committee due to objections of some members. Previously McKee was reappointed after each session.

The upper branch also failed to act at its recent meeting on the nomination of Leo Abernathy as a member of the labor relations board. Martin is expected to rename him soon.

GIVES TIPS ON HANDLING WOOL

Proper shearing, handling, and storing of wool will have definite effects on the market of fleeces, reminds County Agent M. T. Hartman, as sheep growers prepare for the spring shearing. The wool marketing program this year will be similar to last year, with two new features.

Under government regulation, all wool must be sold through the Commodity Credit Corporation, consigned to primary handlers, just as last year. But this year, wool carrying too many dunglocks will have a penalty of 3 per cent on a grease basis. Also, a 2 per cent penalty will apply to all wools not tied. It is generally understood that all wool not tied with paper twine is classed as rejections. All fleeces carrying dunglocks should be removed at shearing time and placed with the "tags," the county agent suggests.

In preparing fleeces for market, the following suggestions are offered: 1. Shear only when fleeces are clean from chaff or straw. 2. Remove all dunglocks before tying the fleece. 4. Roll fleece with flesh side out, and tie with paper twine. 5. Store in a cool, dry place until marketing. Never let wool come in contact with a cement floor while in storage.

LIST LEADING KINDS OF ROSES

Ratings for the leading varieties of hybrid tea roses have been determined by two years' research conducted with 177 species at the Pennsylvania State college.

From the standpoint of flower production, the top 20 roses were given a numerical rating in this order: Pedrables, National Flower Guild, Lily Pons, Soeur Therese, Margaret McGredy, Mrs. Pierre S. DuPont, Mme. Jules Bouche, Brazier, Warrawee, Good News, Lady Ashton, Lady Alice Stanley, Fama, Roslyn, Snowbird, McGredy's Pink, Pink Princess, Charles E. Shea, Miss Rowena Thom, and Falcione.

The same list of 177 roses was given another numerical rating for length of stem, with these results: National Flower Guild, Adoration, Fama, Pedrables, Joyous Cavalier, Mme. Jules Bouche, McGredy's Scarlet, Golden Dawn, Barcelona, and Good News.

However, Dr. E. I. Wilde, professor of ornamental horticulture in charge of the rose research, said no definite preferred list can be made because the rose is so sensitive to environmental conditions that responses differ according to localities.

Nevertheless, Dr. Wilde added, rating should serve as a satisfactory guide for the selection of rose varieties for the average garden where both a garden display and cut flowers are desired.

GREATER NEED FOR GARDENS

Home gardeners still have ample time to produce a good crop, and in view of the food shortage should make the most of their opportunity. In the opinion of Walter B. Nissley, extension vegetable specialist at the Pennsylvania State college.

In urging every potential gardener to do his planting without further delay, Nissley says the food situation may take an even more critical turn owing to the possible uncertainty of the canning crop.

"The fruit crop in the state," he said, "will be short because of damaging frosts, and there's not likely to be any relief in the meat shortage. Undoubtedly, produce from home gardens will be needed in 1945 even more than during any of the other recent war years."

Gardeners who started their hardy, early crops, such as lettuce, spinach, peas, onion sets, beets, carrots, radishes, and hardened cabbage plants, should not be discouraged, Nissley says, because of the set-back from cold weather. These crops, he observes, are coming through the cold snap in good condition.

Now that the weather seems to be on a more seasonal keel, he suggests planting sweet corn, snap beans, edible soybeans, and other warm variety crops. Nissley added that more tender plants, such as tomatoes, egg plants, peppers, and cucumbers, can usually be planted without frost danger from May 15 to June 1 in southern Pennsylvania.

FRUIT INSECT DANGEROUS

Since the freeze has reduced the size of the apple crop, control of codling moths is more important than usual. A hundred moths on 50 apples is worse than 50 moths on 50 apples, Penn State extension entomologists point out.

GROW CALVES WELL

Proper feeding and management of heifer calves will help to bring out the good production abilities that inheritance from well-bred stock gives them, say dairy extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State college.

PULWOOD IS NEEDED

Pulwood continues to be a critically needed war material. Extension foresters of the Pennsylvania State college urge woodland owners to fell and peel as many trees as possible. Cutting to length can be done later when the best time for peeling has passed. Skidding, piling, and loading also can wait.

Urging growers to give tomato plants a good start, vegetable extension specialists of the Pennsylvania State college say that these plants need special handling and care at the time of transplanting. Strong, healthy plants are best and they get a better start if a plant starter is used at transplanting.

If aphids become numerous on commercial plantings, any spraying or dusting needed for control must be done before pods are set on the plants, remind extension entomologists of the Pennsylvania State college. Constant watch must be kept on the field to check the infestation before damage is done.

With grains scarce and high priced, pasture becomes of more importance than usual in swine feeding. Pasture saves from a fifth to a third of the feed required to put hogs on the market, according to Penn State livestock extension specialists.

Because new farm machinery is short, farmers are urged by extension agricultural engineers of Pennsylvania State college to care for, repair, and share existing implements. Often, machinery needs only adjustment to make it run satisfactorily and do the much needed job on the farm.

An application of a nitrogenous fertilizer is necessary three to five weeks after strawberry plants are set out. Such plant food material aids the formation of more and earlier runner plants, which means more berries next year.

Before pullets are placed in range shelters the structures should be cleaned and disinfected, say Penn State poultry extension specialists. Perches and perch supports can be painted with old engine oil, carbolineum, or any commercial red mite paint. Usually one application is enough for the season.

To eliminate large clods and conserve moisture, roll or cultipack each day's plowing on sod land while the soil is moist and melting, or hitch a single-section spike harrow behind the tractor plow. This practice starts the sod to rotting and germinate weed seeds. Sod furrows should be harrowed at least once before they dry out.

Natives of Germany constitute a little more than one fourth of the entire foreign element in the United States.

Honey Bees Get Off To Good Start

Despite recent cold and wet weather, honey bees have been active for a longer period this spring than in normal years.

If favorable weather comes soon there are chances that the 1945 Pennsylvania honey crop may be one of the best in several seasons, according to bee inspection officials in the Bureau of Plant Industry, State Department of Agriculture.

The surprisingly early spring that brought warm weather in March and advanced the growing season in the state from three to four weeks ahead of schedule, brought bees out in great numbers. The season started out as one of the most promising in years. Bee colonies generally came through the winter in good condition and with relatively few losses. It is said. While weather conditions during the latter part of April and early May did not encourage flying, the coming of warmer weather will be most welcome to beekeepers.

On account of the continued wet and cool weather some commercial beekeepers have had to provide supplementary feed in the form of sugar water or combs of honey. However, some colonies had sufficient feed to carry them through the recent wet weeks.

JACKSON PICKS WAR TRIAL AIDES

Washington, May 16 (AP)—Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan, chief of the highly secret Office of Strategic Services, will help prosecute Europe's war criminals.

Supreme Court Justice Robert H. Jackson, designated by President Truman as this country's chief war crimes prosecutor, today announced the selection of Donovan and two other top assistants:

Sidney S. Alderman, general solicitor for the Southern railway, and Assistant Attorney General Francis M. Shea, both of Washington.

Jackson's announcement, issued by the War Department, referred to the three as "experienced trial lawyers."

Donovan, a Congressional medal of honor winner in World War I as leader of the famous "Fighting 69th," long was referred to as the "Mystery Man" of World War II. The title grew out of his extensive European travels in 1940-41 and the hush-hush air surrounding OSS.

Returning from one trip abroad in the summer of 1940, he said he had been looking into the technique of the Nazi fifth column. The following spring he visited England, the Balkans and the near East. In July, 1941, President Roosevelt named Donovan coordinator of information bearing on the defense program.

From there he took over OSS. Now 62, he was an assistant attorney general in the Coolidge administration.

Need 8 Months To Make Money On Cars

Washington, May 16 (AP)—The automobile industry says it will need eight months after its war contracts are cancelled to build enough passenger cars to make money. Its output then would be at a rate of 2,000,000 cars a year.

Reporting today on a reconversion survey of 72 major industries, the War Production Board said the auto makers figured 15 months as the period needed to hit full postwar stride—presumably 6,000,000 cars a year. This would be nearly 2,000,000 more than were turned out in any pre-war year.

All 72 of the industries consulted—now turning out war and essential civilian goods at a $14,000,000 annual clip, estimated their full-scale postwar output at around $10,000,000,000.

Trieste To Remain In Allied Hands

London, May 16 (AP)—A British spokesman Tuesday labelled as "exaggerated" reports published in London that Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia had been ordered peremptorily to withdraw his troops from Istria and the Adriatic port of Trieste.Britain and the United States hold that Trieste would remain under Allied control until the peace conference settled its status. The spokesman said this policy had been communicated to the Yugoslav government through envoys at Belgrade in an atmosphere of frankness and friendship. He declared there was no question of a crisis or of an ultimatum.His statement was similar to one issued Saturday in Washington by Acting Secretary of State Joseph Grew, who said the Yugoslav government had been informed that Trieste would be controlled by the Allied military government until its status was settled in the orderly manner pledged by the United Nations for the solution of such problems.

State Ranks High In Clothing Drive

Harrisburg, May 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania ranks first in the Middle Atlantic district's united national clothing collection according to a report just issued by Henry J. Kaiser, national chairman.Contributions from 260 communities in the state total 8,665,629 pounds, or an average of 1.54 pounds per person. Top honors among communities were awarded New Salem, Lafayette county, where collections averaged 10.7 pounds per person.Kaiser said the surrender of Germany means the release of millions of prisoners and of innocent and destitute people who had been forced into slave labor by the Nazis.
"These millions, added Kaiser, will total 125,000,000 destitute people for whom the clothing drive was originally planned."

To Vote On Boundary Line For Ministerium

Reading, Pa., May 16 (AP)—The Evangelical Lutheran ministerium of Pennsylvania will vote in 1946 on the controversial issue of establishing a geographical boundary line between the ministerium and the central Pennsylvania synod to eliminate overlapping efforts.Although the central Pennsylvania synod already has approved such a "line of demarcation," the ministerium defeated the proposal at last year's convention. The Rev.
Dr. Emil E. Fischer, president, said last night that he favored the territorial distinction.The dividing line for purposes of apportionment, synod activities, and general synod religious and educational work would be the eastern boundaries of Lancaster, Lebanon, Dauphin, Northumberland, Columbia, Lycoming and Tioga counties.

Say Deer Came Thru Winter Fairly Well

Harrisburg, May 16 (AP)—Pennsylvania's deer herd and all species of small game except quail and squirrels weathered the winter much better than had been anticipated, the state Game Commission indicated Tuesday.One commission official explained:
The heavy snow on the sunny side of the mountains melted and settled down during the day, and frequently at night a hard crust formed, strong enough to support the weight of a deer.This provided a "step ladder" by which hundreds of deer were able to reach succulent browse and tender twigs that would have been out of reach in a normal winter.Game officials added that extensive wartime lumbering operations and effects on the part of a large group of volunteers in cutting browse saved many deer from starvation.

Fruitmen Protest Demands Of Union

Philadelphia, May 16 (AP)—Union demands for a 5-day week for produce receivers and union membership for truck drivers arriving in the Philadelphia wholesale market have been protested by fruit and vegetable growers of Atlantic seaboard states.Following a meeting here of representatives of 20 farm organizations from Maine to Florida, spokesmen for the conferees said yesterday a majority of growers would divert their produce trucks to other markets if the union insisted on carrying out its edict.An official of Local No. 929, Teamsters Union, said produce trucks whose drivers are not members of an AFL Teamsters Union in good standing will be unable to deliver cargoes here starting today.

RECORD FOR PENNA.

Harrisburg, May 16 (AP)—Chairman Warren R. Roberts claimed a national record for Pennsylvania in waste paper salvage collection as reports for the month of April showed 76,444 tons or an average of 15.4 pounds per capita. The previous high was set in March at 68,675 tons.Harrisburg, May 16 (AP)—Payment of $855,717 to 1,401 second class townships has been authorized by the state Highway department for construction and maintenance of township roads and bridges.

TRUMAN PLANS TO REORGANIZE U.S. AGENCIES

By TOM REEDY

Washington, May 16 (AP)—President Truman plans a sweeping government reorganization to absorb independent agencies into regular departments.Senators, who asked to be anonymous, made this disclosure of the President's plans today.These senators, close to Mr. Truman when he served in the legislative branch, said the Chief Executive is moving slowly and that it may be weeks before the first steps become apparent.The revisions will include cabinet changes, possibly in Labor, Treasury and Justice.One senator, especially acquainted with Mr. Truman, told this reporter:
"The President always has believed that government should operate on a vertical basis. He is an old army man accustomed to a logical chain of command."

Responsible Heads

"The government operated on that basis for many years and it was the most effective."Independent agencies mushroomed in the depression years as the government stepped into new regulatory capacities.There has been a growing demand in Congress for established departments to take over the functions of these agencies, a demand in which Mr. Truman is said to be heartily in accord.The principle upon which the President is said to base his program is to have one responsible head for each department, with supervisory and advisory duties spread out to a group of subordinate executives.

HERSHEY PARK OPENS SUNDAY

Hershey Park, with its 1,000 acres devoted to recreation and entertainment, which has the reputation of being called the "Summer Playground of Pennsylvania," will open for its 40th season next Sunday.Following the practice of having something new every year, the park has disposed of the carousel and purchased one of the finest merry-go-rounds that has ever been built in this country.On a platform 51 feet in diameter, there are four rows of horses, 66 in all, with two large chariots. The outside row of horses is stationary, the three inner rows containing 42 jumping horses. The old carousel had 300 lamps, the newer one, 1,700.
The big band organ has a snaredrum, bass drum, cymbals and chimes, to aid in making the carnival time.The park will have its free band and orchestra concerts on Sunday afternoons from 2 to 4 p. m., and again in the evening from 7 to 9
p. m.The park swimming pools, which contain 1,500,000 gallons of filtered water from clear subterranean springs, will open on Sunday.Maude Adams' real family name
